

Communication & Collaboration in Education

In this session, participants will recognize the importance and the impact communication has on how people react to you personally and how your communication skills ultimately can improve the teaching and learning environment in your school. Verbal, non-verbal, and social media communications will be explored through activities, discussions, and self-reflection.